Indications from the health department

Prayer events are allowed again during the Corona pandemic in Hessen. Nonetheless, the risk of infection has to be kept as low as possible. Also when coming together to pray and pause together, it is about protecting health and life.

The health department of the district of Gießen provides indications:

- You always have to keep a distance of at least 1.5 meters from all other persons who do not live with you. Also before, during and after prayer events.
- As a church leader or clergyman, always ensure that distances are kept.
- Do not shake hands, touch or hug people who do not live with you.
- If possible, organize outdoor prayer events. Here, you also have to keep a distance of 1.5 meters. Video prayer events can be a good alternative. Ventilation should regularly be made sure during prayer events in closed room.
- Everyone participating in an indoor prayer event should wear a mask over their mouths and noses.
- Avoid large numbers of people coming together at the same time. Maybe several events for smaller groups can be organized in a day or on a weekend.
- Avoid singing together or praying out loud. Making music and individual performances at a sufficient distance from the group can be an option.
- You should not pass any objects from hand to hand or touch them one after the other.

The hygiene team of the health department of Gießen is at your availability for all questions and advice.
